Subject: Overnight Field Trip - Soils Competition

The Soils Judging team will be competing in the area contest in early October with the hopes of qualifying for the state competition. If we qualify for the state contest, it will require an overnight field trip to Northern Indiana (exact location is not disclosed due to the confidentiality of the contest). We would leave Friday October 14th to go up north near the dunes. We would travel around that day judging soil pits and learning. From there, we would compete in the contest Saturday and have them back that evening. This is a wonderful opportunity and the students have worked so hard to make sure they can qualify.
